

One sided Love

By: Elle Bustos

*One sided love why
Why do you make me blue as the sky*

*Or make me fall for that guy
And now ive been left alone to cry*

*Why do I love people that hurt me
Is it because of all that time waiting for someone to set me free*

*My heart won't ever be full
And i'll never have a rightly shaped soul*

*But at least I have those who are imaginary
And one that truly cares about me*

*I'll never find love
And it's because i'll never be enough*

*And for all my love that was abandoned
I'll find ways to avoid being examined*

*And i'll always love them till the end
And when those I love transcend*

*I'll let them be free
Because I can't let them see*

*As much as I love it will always be one sided
And so it's decided*

*There will be no more love poems
And only sad drones*

*Sadder and sadder
And nobody will care because I really don't matter*

And as all my friends scatter my heart will continue to shatter

*And soon people will realize that I take on more than I should
And I wonder if they would repay the favor if they could*

*And just like being stranded out at sea
I can't make him come back to me.*

*But even so I love them
But soon my time with them will end.*
